BARONA CREEK GOLF CLUB

See the PGA TOUR's stars of tomorrow today at the season-ending Nationwide Tour Championship. This special event is set for the week of October 29 – November 4, 2007 at Barona Creek Golf Club.

Administered locally by the Century Club of San Diego, this 72-hole championship features the top 60 players on the money list. A $750,000 purse is on the line. The most coveted prizes, however, are the PGA TOUR player cards for the 2008 season that will be claimed by the top 25 finishers on the final money list.

Considered by many as the world's staging ground for the PGA TOUR's next stars, Nationwide Tour players have won more than 200 PGA TOUR events. Sixty-five percent of active PGA TOUR members played on the Nationwide Tour.

BARONA CREEK GOLF CLUB

Nestled in San Diego's tranquil Barona Valley lies a golfing experience like no other, Barona Creek Golf Club. This award-winning course, named Golfweek's 5th Best Course You Can Play in California, features over 7,000 yards of immaculately manicured fairways, untamed and unforgiving roughs, and bent grass putting greens, placing it in the company of Pebble Beach and Spyglass Hill.
